Data Protection Policy

1. INTRODUCTION

The Data Protection Act 1998 came into effect on 1st March 2000. The Act regulates the use of personal data relating to living data subjects. The purpose of the Act is to regulate the way that personal information about living individuals (no matter how that information is held) is obtained, stored, used and disclosed. The legislation grants rights to individuals, to see data stored about them and to require modification if the data are incorrect, and, in certain cases, to compensation. These provisions amount to a right of privacy for the individual.

This notification is facilitated by the clerk and the notification details the main processing activities of the council.
